

CALL FOR CASES

PROJECT MANAGEMENT JOURNAL® LAUNCHES A NEW SECTION FOR CASES FOR THE CLASSROOM

Make your impact in the classroom with cases from PMJ®

SECTION EDITOR:

Gina Vega, Organizational Ergonomics

The Project Management Journal® is an official publication of the Project Management Institute (PMI) and a leading international journal focused on the management of projects through research, theory, and evidence-based practice. As part of an innovative publishing agenda, PMJ® is responding to the needs of instructors by launching a new section that provides full-length cases and instructor's manuals for classroom or consulting use. Case submissions can address the full spectrum of Knowledge Modules in the PM Curriculum (see <https://pmiteach.org/teaching-pm/knowledge-module/> for a list of 30 distinct areas of learning).

With the rise of experiential learning, case studies have gained traction as a fundamental teaching tool in every subject area, and they have proven to be the most requested instructional resource by project management faculty internationally.

SUBMIT YOUR TEACHING CASES AND ASSOCIATED TEACHING NOTES

PMJ® invites submissions of cases designed for classroom use. The following elements are required for submission:

- Cases from all business disciplines will be considered as long as they relate to projects, not ongoing processes.
- Cases must be factual, and releases must be available where necessary. Cases need not be field-researched, although field research is preferred.
- Length: 4–10 pages plus exhibits
- Written in the past tense
- All cases must be accompanied by an instructor's manual that contains:
  - A brief synopsis
  - The specific knowledge module that the case addresses (see link above)
  - Learning objectives
  - Relevant theoretical concepts or models that can be applied
  - Research methodology
  - Discussion questions with suggested responses
  - A teaching plan, if not inherent in the Q&A section
  - An epilogue

Cases and teaching notes undergo a double-blind developmental peer review process. The editor will work with authors to address the comments and goals of reviewers. Cases missing any of the elements above will not be reviewed.

All manuscripts submitted must be original, unpublished, and not under consideration by any other publishing source.

SUBMISSIONS

Cases and their associated instructor's manual should be submitted via the journal submission site: <http://www.pmi.org/learning/publications/project-management-journal/guidelines>. For further information or questions about publishing cases in PMJ®, please contact the section editor at gina.vega978@gmail.com.