About the OPM3 Certified Professional

The OPM3 certification was initiated in 2006 to recognize an individual's expertise in the field of project management maturity. This certification recognizes that an individual has:

- practical knowledge in OPM3
- met PMI's extensive eligibility requirements in project management, assessing, gap analysis, and consulting
- successfully completed the required PMI training course on the use of the OPM3 ProductSuite®.

Achieving the designation of OPM3 Certified Professional is the highest recognition of project management and OPM3 expertise. OPM3 certified professionals are also given exclusive access to PMI's proprietary organization assessment and improvement tools.

Timeline of the OPM3 Certification Process

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for the certification, you must meet certain educational/program management experience, assessing/consulting experience, and OPM3 global standard requirements. All project management experience must have been accrued within the last eight consecutive years prior to your application submission.

1. Minimum Education and Project Management Experience

You must be able to demonstrate one of the following to meet the minimum education and project management experience requirements:

- A Project Management Professional (PMP)® credential in good standing
- A Program Management Professional (PgMP)® credential in good standing
- Bachelor's degree or global equivalent and three years of project management experience
- High school diploma or global equivalent and five years of project management experience

How to Calculate your Project Management Experience

Each month in which you worked on multiple, overlapping projects counts as one month toward the total requirement. In the following example, the project manager worked on Project 1 and Project 2 simultaneously February–April. However, the time spent on both projects counts as three, not six, months toward the total to fulfill the professional project management experience requirement.

PLUS

2. Minimum Consulting Experience

You must also be able to demonstrate one of the following to meet the minimum consulting experience requirements:

- Minimum of 1000 hours (one year) of assessing, gap analysis and consulting experience, with the last five years with at least 100 hours each in:
  - Assessing
  - Auditing
  - Consulting

PLUS

3. OPM3 Knowledge and/or Experience

Finally, you must be able to demonstrate one of the following to meet the minimum knowledge or experience requirements in OPM3:

- Conducted one OPM3 assessment using the OPM3 Self Assessment Method (SAM)

Apply

Application available as a downloadable PDF or online at PMI.org

1. Education and Project Management Experience
2. Consulting Experience and
3. OPM3 Knowledge and/or Experience

NOTE: Incomplete applications will not be processed.

You can use the Application Checklist to help you get started with the process, but be sure to finish reading this handbook. The handbook goes on to tell you about exam policies and procedures, PMI's audit process, fees, and the program. It also provides you with copies of the PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct and the PMI OPM3 Certified Professional Agreement, which you will need to confirm that you have read and will follow in order to complete the application.

Application Processing

PMI strives to process certification applications in a timely manner. The application processing timeline depends on how applications are submitted—either by fax/email or on paper sent by postal mail to PMI. The following table details the application processing timeline:

Application Processing Timeline
Application submitted:	Process time:
Fax / Email	10 business days

Applicant Contact Information

Please ensure that the application includes your valid email address, as this will be the primary means by which PMI will communicate with you throughout the certification process. Although PMI will email you reminders during the process, it is your responsibility to schedule and sit for your entrance examination within the one-year eligibility period.

Application Completeness Review

A representative from the Organization Product Team will review your application to ensure it is complete. Once your application is reviewed and/or you pass PMI's audit process (if your application was selected), you will move through the first portion of certification, which is the Entrance Exam.

PMI's Audit Process

The submission of an application indicates your agreement to comply with the terms of the audit process. All applications are subject to an audit, although only a percentage of applications are selected for audit. The selection of an application for audit is random.

If your application is selected for an audit, you will be notified before your application is approved. An electronic audit notification provides detailed information on how to comply with the terms of the audit.

If you are able to provide the necessary documentation to meet the terms and requirements of the audit process, the audit should take about five to seven business days to complete.

You may not continue with the certification process until you have complied with the audit requirements.

Once you successfully complete the audit, your application will be approved and you will continue through the certification process.

NOTE: Please be advised that while the selection process for an audit is primarily random, PMI reserves the right to select any candidate to be audited at any time, including after the certification has been bestowed. If you fail to meet the audit requirements after attaining the certification, you are not entitled to a refund.

Certification Fees

The certification process is segmented into stages. At each stage you must submit payment of the fee as part of the payment process. These staged payments are designed to protect you against charges for any stage before you are qualified by PMI to proceed to the next stage. These stages include:

1. Application Stage
2. Entrance CBT Examination*
3. Training Course and Final CBT Examination* (The training course and final examination stage payments are combined.)
4. Renewal (annual)

You can submit renewal fees that have been invoiced by PMI using a credit card, wire transfer, check, or money order.

Certification Stage	Member Fee
Application Fees	Free
*Entrance CBT Exam	US$500
*Training Course Fees	As per the instructor
First Year of Certification	US$1,500
Annual Certification Renewal Fee	US$1,500

*You can retake the Entrance and Final exams should you not pass on the first attempt.
Retake of Entrance Exam Fee is US$250. Retake of Final Exam Fee is US$500

PMI Examination Security and Confidentiality Policy

For the OPM3 Certification Entrance Exam and Final Exam

Items on both the Entrance Exam and Final Exam are:

- Developed and independently validated by global work groups of certification holders
- Referenced to the OPM3 standard
- Monitored through psychometric analysis

The examination, answer sheets, worksheets, and/or any other test or test-related materials remain the sole and exclusive property of PMI. These materials are confidential and are not available for review by any person or agency for any reason.

Examination (pass/fail) results are confidential and will not be disclosed to anyone without candidate consent, unless directed by valid and lawful subpoena or court order. If you would like your examination results to be released to a third party, you must provide PMI with a written request that specifically identifies the details (e.g., examination date, pass/fail status, percentage by domain score report), about the examination results that the third-party person or organization should receive.

When you submit an application, you agree to abide by the OPM3 Certification Agreement (found in this handbook). Among other things, this document addresses post-examination questions and discussions. It states: "...the Certificate holder agrees not in any way to disclose to any person or entity details of, or information relating to, the certification procedures, including but not limited to the content of the exam." Any such discussion would be a potential violation to the OPM3 Certification Application/Renewal Agreement and thus could affect the status of your certification, up to and including revocation of your certification or permanent suspension from any PMI certification examinations.

Entrance Exam Payment Process

Once you submit nonrefundable payment online, the Entrance Exam begins immediately. Do not submit your payment online until you are ready to take the Entrance Exam.

When the Entrance Exam is completed and payment for the next stage is received, PMI will email you with one of two of the following notifications:

1. Entrance Exam was passed; please use the code provided to reserve your training location.
- OR
2. Entrance Exam was not passed; you may retake the Entrance Examination anytime within the next 30 days (the fee for examination retake is US$250).

Entrance Exam Information

Once your application is approved, you must pass the Entrance Exam in order to participate in the training to become an OPM3® Certified Professional.

The entrance exam is an open-book test comprised of 100 multiple-choice questions that review your knowledge of the following standards:

- Organizational Project Management Maturity Model (OPM3)® – Second Edition
- A Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK® Guide) – Fourth Edition
- The Standard for Portfolio Management – Second Edition
- The Standard for Program Management – Second Edition

NOTE: Internet-based testing is the only method of administration for the OPM3 Entrance Exam. This means that you can take the Entrance Exam from your personal computer with an Internet connection at your convenience. Once you submit payment, the exam is launched.

Once the Entrance Exam is paid for and launched, you have a two-hour testing window to complete it. It may take some certification candidates less than the allotted two hours to complete the examination.

Number of Exam Questions	Allotted CBT Examination Time
100	2 hours

OPM3 Certification Course Scheduling Instructions

The certification training course is offered through PMI's OPM3 Certified Instructors. Once you have passed the entrance examination, PMI will electronically notify you and the course instructor of your status.

PMI cannot guarantee seating at the training courses and recommends that you submit your application at least six weeks in advance of your preferred training date.

Final Examination Information

On the afternoon of the fourth day of the OPM3 certification course, you will sit for the final exam. This is a proctored, Internet-based, open-book test based on practical application of the OPM3 ProductSuite and your ability to conduct an organizational assessment.

The final examination is comprised of 100 multiple-choice questions. You have two and a half hours to complete this exam. It may take some certification candidates less than the allotted time to complete the examination.

Number of Exam Questions	Allotted Exam Time
100	2.5 hours

Final Exam Blueprint

The final exam is developed based on the following examination blueprint. The following table represents the percentage of questions in each domain that are included in the examination.

Domain	Percentage of Questions
Assessment Tool	25%
Improvement Tool	25%
Assessment Methodology	25%
Improvement Methodology	25%

Refer to the “OPM3 Certification Examination Policies and Procedures” section for more information.

Examination Results Notification and Score Report

Establishing the Passing Score

The minimum passing score for the exam will be 70 percent. The final score results will be presented to you at the completion of the exam. The passing score for all PMI examinations is determined by sound psychometric analysis. PMI uses subject matter experts from across the globe to help establish a point at which each candidate should pass the examination(s) and the examination point of difficulty. Data that show how candidates actually performed are cross-referenced with the subject matter experts to ensure that the point of difficulty on each examination is healthy.

Diagnostic information on your performance is provided for each domain to provide you with a reasonable measurement of your knowledge. The diagnostic report lists each domain, the pass score for that domain, your score for that domain, and your pass/fail status for the domain.

NOTE: You will not see your certification status on the PMI OPM3 Professional Services Directory until PMI receives your examination results and payment for your first annual certification fee.

NOTE: If you do not pass the certification examination on your first attempt, you have two more opportunities to retest within your one-year eligibility period. Refer to the re-examination section in this handbook for more details.

Re-examination for the Entrance and Final Exams

Entrance Exam

OPM3 applicants will be given two more opportunities within 30 days of the original entrance exam date. Attendees who wish to apply for a retake will need to send an email to customer care notifying them of their interest to sit and retake the exam. The fee for a retake exam is US$250. If the applicant fails the exam three times, he or she must wait one year from the original exam date before he or she can reapply for the OPM3 Professional Certification Program.

Final Exam

OPM3 Applicants will be given two more opportunities within 15 business days of the original exam date to pass the final exam. The fee for a retake exam is US$500. If the applicant fails the final exam three times he or she must wait one year from the original exam date before he or she can reapply for the OPM3 Professional Certification Program.

Gauge your time carefully to leave enough time during the eligibility period to retake the examination, if needed.

Exam Administration Type	Exam Fee
Re-examination Entrance Exam	US$250
Re-examination Final Exam	US$500

If you fail the examination three times within your one-year eligibility period, you must wait one year from the date of the last examination you took to reapply for the credential. However, after failing a credential examination three times, candidates may opt to apply for any other PMI credential. For example, a candidate who failed the PMP examination three times in his or her one-year eligibility period must wait one year to reapply for the PMP. However, he or she can apply for the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM)®, PMI Scheduling Professional (PMI-SP)®, PMI Risk Management Professional (PMI-RMP)®, PMI Agile Certified Professional (PMI-ACP)®, Program Management Professional (PgMP)® or Portfolio Management Professional (PfMP)<sup>SM</sup> (and submit associated initial credential fees) at any time. If your eligibility period expires without your passing the examination, you must reapply for the credential.

PMI Appeals Procedure

PMI's certification program is administered and supervised at PMI. All challenges to the certification program are governed by the comprehensive and exclusive rules of the PMI Manager of Organization Products.

The appeals process is the only method to review all decisions made by the PMI Manager of Organization Products regarding applications, eligibility, examinations, and other application/testing related certification issues and/or challenges.

Candidates for the certification, or individuals who currently hold the certification, may submit a written request to the PMI Manager of Organization Products for review of an adverse certification program action, decision, or determination.

Use of Your PMI Certification

Once you are granted the certification, you may refer to yourself as a Certified Professional as long as you have an active certification status.

Certificate Package

Within six to eight weeks of receiving payment for the annual certification fee, you will receive a certification package that includes:

1. Congratulatory letter
2. Information on how to maintain and/or renew your certification
3. Certificate

These documents provide you:

- Certification number—a unique identification number used by PMI to maintain your individual certification records. You will want to file this information in a safe and easily accessible location. You will need to refer to it in order to maintain your certification.
- Certification cycle dates

Online PMI OPM3 Professional Services Registry

The online PMI *OPM3* Professional Services Registry lists names of certification holders. This feature allows verification of certification holders for the benefit of employers, service purchasers, and others. Users can search for certification holders by, industry, region, or keyword.

OPM3 Certified Professionals can choose to be removed from the registry, so the absence of your name in the registry does not necessarily mean that you are not certified. You can opt out of inclusion in the registry or update your listing information anytime.

Registered Consultant Program

OPM3 Certified Professionals who offer consultant services to organizations through a legally organized company are granted participation in the PMI Registered Consultant Program. Participation in the program provides you with the following benefits:

- A listing in the PMI Consultant Registry – drives customers directly to your firm via a website link, email address, and phone number, actively promoted through:
  - PMI organizational account managers to international, national, and local companies and government organizations
  - Registry articles in PMI print and electronic publications
  - Advertisements in online business magazines
  - Select case studies shared with PMI's 60,000 Facebook fans and more than 20,000 Twitter followers
  - E-mails to PMI organizational decision makers
  - Marketing materials distributed at PMI and non-PMI events that gather decision makers, such as Gartner Forums and civil world service events, all over the world
- The PMI Consultant Registry logo – to use on promotional materials and your website to show the connection to PMI, a brand with strong recognition and value in the project management marketplace
- An opportunity to share your case studies, which provide specific insight into your areas of expertise and the results you have achieved with your clients
- Opportunity to network with other RCP members via a LinkedIn group open only to program participants

Recertification Requirements

Once you have attained the certification, you must adhere to the Certification Maintenance Requirements to maintain an active certification status. The certification cycle lasts three years from the date that you pass the examination. During the three-year certification cycle, you must:

1. Perform no less than a combination of four OPM3 ProductSuite® assessments or improvements
- OR
2. Retake and pass the Final Examination and pay all applicable fees

NOTE: PMI will notify you if you are required to participate in instructional activities to maintain your current certification.

Overview of Process to Maintain an Active Certification Status

Certification Status

Active Status

Once you report any assessment/improvements that you conducted or pass the certification exam and renew your certification, prior to the certification yearly expiration date, you are a certification holder in good standing and considered to be in active status. When you are in active status, you will be listed in the PMI OPM3 Professional Services Directory, which allows verification of your certification status.

Suspended Status

If you do not satisfy the Certification Maintenance Requirements within your active certification dates, you will be placed on suspended status. If you are in suspended status:

1. You may not refer to yourself as a PMI OPM3® Certified Professional or use the certification designation(s) until the overdue requirements are earned.
2. Your ProductSuite® access will be deactivated.
3. Your name will be removed from the RCP Directory.
4. Your name will be removed from the OPM3® Directory.

You must meet the Certification Maintenance Requirements within a maximum of one year beyond the certification expiration date.

The date of your next certification cycle will not change after reinstatement to active status from suspended status.

If you do not meet the overdue requirements within the suspension period, you will lose your certification. If you fail to comply with the certification maintenance requirements and lose your certification, you will be required to reapply for the certification, retake the Entrance and Final Exams, and submit the fees associated with the initial certification application.

Expired Status

If you do not meet the overdue requirements within the suspension period, you will lose your certification. If you fail to comply with the certification maintenance requirements and lose your certification, you will be required to reapply for the certification, retake the Entrance and Final Exams, and submit the fees associated with the initial certification application.

PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

CHAPTER 1. VISION AND APPLICABILITY

1.1 Vision and Purpose

As practitioners of project management, we are committed to doing what is right and honorable. We set high standards for ourselves and we aspire to meet these standards in all aspects of our lives—at work, at home, and in service to our profession.

This Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct describes the expectations that we have of ourselves and our fellow practitioners in the global project management community. It articulates the ideals to which we aspire as well as the behaviors that are mandatory in our professional and volunteer roles.

The purpose of this Code is to instill confidence in the project management profession and to help an individual become a better practitioner. We do this by establishing a profession-wide understanding of appropriate behavior. We believe that the credibility and reputation of the project management profession is shaped by the collective conduct of individual practitioners.

We believe that we can advance our profession, both individually and collectively, by embracing this Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct. We also believe that this Code will assist us in making wise decisions, particularly when faced with difficult situations where we may be asked to compromise our integrity or our values.

Our hope is that this Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct will serve as a catalyst for others to study, deliberate, and write about ethics and values. Further, we hope that this Code will ultimately be used to build upon and evolve our profession.

1.2 Persons to Whom the Code Applies

The Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct applies to:

1.2.1 All PMI members

1.2.2 Individuals who are not members of PMI but meet one or more of the following criteria:

- .1 Non-members who hold a PMI certification and/or credential
- .2 Non-members who apply to commence a PMI certification process
- .3 Non-members who serve PMI in a volunteer capacity.

Comment: Those holding a Project Management Institute (PMI) credential (whether members or not) were previously held accountable to the Project Management Professional (PMP®) or Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM)® certification Code of Professional Conduct and continue to be held accountable to the PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct. In the past, PMI also had separate ethics standards for members and for credentialed individuals. Stakeholders who contributed input to develop this Code concluded that having multiple codes was undesirable and that everyone should be held to one high standard. Therefore, this Code is applicable to both PMI members and individuals who have applied for or received a credential and/or certification from PMI, regardless of their membership in PMI.

1.3 Structure of the Code

The Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct is divided into sections that contain standards of conduct which are aligned with the four values that were identified as most important to the project management community. Some sections of this Code include comments. Comments are not mandatory parts of the Code, but provide examples and other clarification. Finally, a glossary can be found at the end of the standard. The glossary defines words and phrases used in the Code. For convenience, those terms defined in the glossary are underlined in the text of the Code.

1.4 Values that Support this Code

Practitioners from the global project management community were asked to identify the values that formed the basis of their decision making and guided their actions. The values that the global project management community defined as most important were: responsibility, respect, fairness, and honesty. This Code affirms these four values as its foundation.

1.5 Aspirational and Mandatory Conduct

Each section of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct includes both aspirational standards and mandatory standards. The aspirational standards describe the conduct that we strive to uphold as practitioners. Although adherence to the aspirational standards is not easily measured, conducting ourselves in accordance with these is an expectation that we have of ourselves as professionals—it is not optional.

The mandatory standards establish firm requirements, and in some cases, limit or prohibit practitioner behavior. Practitioners who do not conduct themselves in accordance with these standards will be subject to disciplinary procedures before PMI's Ethics Review Committee.

Comment: The conduct covered under the aspirational standards and conduct covered under the mandatory standards are not mutually exclusive; that is, one specific act or omission could violate both aspirational and mandatory standards.

CHAPTER 2. RESPONSIBILITY

2.1 Description of Responsibility

Responsibility is our duty to take ownership for the decisions we make or fail to make, the actions we take or fail to take, and the consequences that result.

2.2 Responsibility: Aspirational Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community:

2.2.1 We make decisions and take actions based on the best interests of society, public safety, and the environment.

2.2.2 We accept only those assignments that are consistent with our background, experience, skills, and qualifications.

Comment: Where developmental or stretch assignments are being considered, we ensure that key stakeholders receive timely and complete information regarding the gaps in our qualifications so that they may make informed decisions regarding our suitability for a particular assignment.

In the case of a contracting arrangement, we only bid on work that our organization is qualified to perform and we assign only qualified individuals to perform the work.

2.2.3 We fulfill the commitments that we undertake; we do what we say we will do.

2.2.4 When we make errors or omissions, we take ownership and make corrections promptly. When we discover errors or omissions caused by others, we communicate them to the appropriate body as soon they are discovered. We accept accountability for any issues resulting from our errors or omissions and any resulting consequences.

2.2.5 We protect proprietary or confidential information that has been entrusted to us.

2.2.6 We uphold this Code and hold each other accountable to it.

2.3 Responsibility: Mandatory Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community, we require the following of ourselves and our fellow practitioners:

Regulations and Legal Requirements

2.3.1 We inform ourselves and uphold the policies, rules, regulations and laws that govern our work, professional, and volunteer activities.

2.3.2 We report unethical or illegal conduct to appropriate management and, if necessary, to those affected by the conduct.

Comment: These provisions have several implications. Specifically, we do not engage in any illegal behavior, including but not limited to: theft, fraud, corruption, embezzlement, or bribery. Further, we do not take or abuse the property of others, including intellectual property, nor do we engage in slander or libel. In focus groups conducted with practitioners around the globe, these types of illegal behaviors were mentioned as being problematic.

As practitioners and representatives of our profession, we do not condone or assist others in engaging in illegal behavior.

We report any illegal or unethical conduct. Reporting is not easy and we recognize that it may have negative consequences.

Since recent corporate scandals, many organizations have adopted policies to protect employees who reveal the truth about illegal or unethical activities. Some governments have also adopted legislation to protect employees who come forward with the truth.

Ethics Complaints

2.3.3 We bring violations of this Code to the attention of the appropriate body for resolution.

2.3.4 We only file ethics complaints when they are substantiated by facts.

Comment: These provisions have several implications. We cooperate with PMI concerning ethics violations and the collection of related information whether we are a complainant or a respondent. We also abstain from accusing others of ethical misconduct when we do not have all the facts. Further, we pursue disciplinary action against individuals who knowingly make false allegations against others.

2.3.5 We pursue disciplinary action against an individual who retaliates against a person raising ethics concerns.

CHAPTER 3. RESPECT

3.1 Description of Respect

Respect is our duty to show a high regard for ourselves, others, and the resources entrusted to us. Resources entrusted to us may include people, money, reputation, the safety of others, and natural or environmental resources.

An environment of respect engenders trust, confidence, and performance excellence by fostering mutual cooperation — an environment where diverse perspectives and views are encouraged and valued.

3.2 Respect: Aspirational Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community:

3.2.1 We inform ourselves about the norms and customs of others and avoid engaging in behaviors they might consider disrespectful.

3.2.2 We listen to others' points of view, seeking to understand them.

3.2.3 We approach directly those persons with whom we have a conflict or disagreement.

3.2.4 We conduct ourselves in a professional manner, even when it is not reciprocated.

Comment: An implication of these provisions is that we avoid engaging in gossip and avoid making negative remarks to undermine another person's reputation. We also have a duty under this Code to confront others who engage in these types of behaviors.

3.3 Respect: Mandatory Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community, we require the following of ourselves and our fellow practitioners:

3.3.1 We negotiate in good faith.

3.3.2 We do not exercise the power of our expertise or position to influence the decisions or actions of others in order to benefit personally at their expense.

3.3.3 We do not act in an abusive manner toward others.

3.3.4 We respect the property rights of others.

CHAPTER 4. FAIRNESS

4.1 Description of Fairness

Fairness is our duty to make decisions and act impartially and objectively. Our conduct must be free from competing self interest, prejudice, and favoritism.

4.2 Fairness: Aspirational Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community:

4.2.1 We demonstrate transparency in our decision-making process.

4.2.2 We constantly re-examine our impartiality and objectivity, taking corrective action as appropriate.

Comment: Research with practitioners indicated that the subject of conflicts of interest is one of the most challenging faced by our profession. One of the biggest problems practitioners report is not recognizing when we have conflicted loyalties and recognizing when we are inadvertently placing ourselves or others in a conflict-of-interest situation. We as practitioners must proactively search for potential conflicts and help each other by highlighting each other's potential conflicts of interest and insisting that they be resolved.

4.2.3 We provide equal access to information to those who are authorized to have that information.

4.2.4 We make opportunities equally available to qualified candidates.

Comment: An implication of these provisions is, in the case of a contracting arrangement, we provide equal access to information during the bidding process.

4.3 Fairness: Mandatory Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community, we require the following of ourselves and our fellow practitioners:

Conflict of Interest Situations

4.3.1 We proactively and fully disclose any real or potential conflicts of interest to the appropriate stakeholders.

4.3.2 When we realize that we have a real or potential conflict of interest, we refrain from engaging in the decision-making process or otherwise attempting to influence outcomes, unless or until: we have made full disclosure to the affected stakeholders; we have an approved mitigation plan; and we have obtained the consent of the stakeholders to proceed.

Comment: A conflict of interest occurs when we are in a position to influence decisions or other outcomes on behalf of one party when such decisions or outcomes could affect one or more other parties with whom we have competing loyalties. For example, when we are acting as an employee, we have a duty of loyalty to our employer. When we are acting as a PMI volunteer, we have a duty of loyalty to the Project Management Institute. We must recognize these divergent interests and refrain from influencing decisions when we have a conflict of interest.

Further, even if we believe that we can set aside our divided loyalties and make decisions impartially, we treat the appearance of a conflict of interest as a conflict of interest and follow the provisions described in the Code.

Favoritism and Discrimination

4.3.3 We do not hire or fire, reward or punish, or award or deny contracts based on personal considerations, including but not limited to, favoritism, nepotism, or bribery.

4.3.4 We do not discriminate against others based on, but not limited to, gender, race, age, religion, disability, nationality, or sexual orientation.

4.3.5 We apply the rules of the organization (employer, Project Management Institute, or other group) without favoritism or prejudice.

CHAPTER 5. HONESTY

5.1 Description of Honesty

Honesty is our duty to understand the truth and act in a truthful manner both in our communications and in our conduct.

5.2 Honesty: Aspirational Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community:

5.2.1 We earnestly seek to understand the truth.

5.2.2 We are truthful in our communications and in our conduct.

5.2.3 We provide accurate information in a timely manner.

Comment: An implication of these provisions is that we take appropriate steps to ensure that the information we are basing our decisions upon or providing to others is accurate, reliable, and timely.

This includes having the courage to share bad news even when it may be poorly received. Also, when outcomes are negative, we avoid burying information or shifting blame to others. When outcomes are positive, we avoid taking credit for the achievements of others. These provisions reinforce our commitment to be both honest and responsible.

5.2.4 We make commitments and promises, implied or explicit, in good faith.

5.2.5 We strive to create an environment in which others feel safe to tell the truth.

5.3 Honesty: Mandatory Standards

As practitioners in the global project management community, we require the following of ourselves and our fellow practitioners:

5.3.1 We do not engage in or condone behavior that is designed to deceive others, including but not limited to, making misleading or false statements, stating half-truths, providing information out of context or withholding information that, if known, would render our statements as misleading or incomplete.

5.3.2 We do not engage in dishonest behavior with the intention of personal gain or at the expense of another.

Comment: The aspirational standards exhort us to be truthful. Half-truths and non-disclosures intended to mislead stakeholders are as unprofessional as affirmatively making misrepresentations. We develop credibility by providing complete and accurate information.

APPENDIX A

A.1 History of this Standard

PMI's vision of project management as an independent profession drove our early work in ethics. In 1981, the PMI Board of Directors formed an Ethics, Standards and Accreditation Group. One task required the group to deliberate on the need for a code of ethics for the profession. The team's report contained the first documented PMI discussion of ethics for the project management profession. This report was submitted to the PMI Board of Directors in August 1982 and published as a supplement to the August 1983 Project Management Quarterly. In the late 1980s, this standard evolved to become the Ethics Standard for the Project Management Professional [PMP®]. In 1997, the PMI Board determined the need for a member code of ethics. The PMI Board formed the Ethics Policy Documentation Committee to draft and publish an ethics standard for PMI's membership. The Board approved the new Member Code of Ethics in October 1998. This was followed by Board approval of the Member Case Procedures in January 1999, which provided a process for the submission of an ethics complaint and a determination as to whether a violation had occurred.

Since the 1998 Code was adopted, many dramatic changes have occurred within PMI and the business world. PMI membership has grown significantly. A great deal of growth has also occurred in regions outside North America. In the business world, ethics scandals have caused the downfall of global corporations and non-profits, causing public outrage and sparking increased government regulations. Globalization has brought economies closer together but has caused a realization that our practice of ethics may differ from culture to culture. The rapid, continuing pace of technological change has provided new opportunities, but has also introduced new challenges, including new ethical dilemmas.

For these reasons, in 2003 the PMI Board of Directors called for the re-examination of our codes of ethics. In 2004, the PMI Board commissioned the Ethics Standards Review Committee [ESRC] to review the codes of ethics and develop a process for revising the codes. The ESRC developed processes that would encourage active participation by the global project management community. In 2005, the PMI Board approved the processes for revising the code, agreeing that global participation by the project management community was paramount. In 2005, the Board also commissioned the Ethics Standards Development Committee to carry out the Board-approved process and deliver the revised code by the end of 2006. This Code of Ethics and Professional Development was approved by the PMI Board of Directors in October 2006.

A.2 Process Used to Create This Standard

The first step by the Ethics Standards Development Committee [ESDC] in the development of this Code was to understand the ethical issues facing the project management community and to understand the values and viewpoints of practitioners from all regions of the globe. This was accomplished by a variety of mechanisms, including focus group discussions and two Internet surveys involving practitioners, members, volunteers, and people holding a PMI certification and/or credential. Additionally, the team analyzed the ethics codes of 24 non-profit associations from various regions of the world, researched best practices in the development of ethics standards, and explored the ethics-related tenets of PMI's strategic plan.

This extensive research conducted by the ESDC provided the backdrop for developing the exposure draft of the PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct. The exposure draft was circulated to the global project management community for comment. The rigorous, standards development processes established by the American National Standards Institute were followed during the development of the Code because these processes were used for PMI technical standard development projects and were deemed to represent the best practices for obtaining and adjudicating stakeholder feedback to the exposure draft. The result of this effort is a Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct that not only describes the ethical values to which the global project management community aspires, but also addresses the specific conduct that is mandatory for every individual bound by this Code. Violations of the PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct may result in sanctions by PMI under the ethics Case Procedures. The ESDC learned that as practitioners of project management, our community takes its commitment to ethics very seriously and we hold ourselves and our peers in the global project management community accountable to conduct ourselves in accordance with the provisions of this Code.
