

Copyright Assignment & Agreement for Periodicals Of The Project Management Institute

This Copyright Assignment & Agreement, made this ____ of _____, 2____, by and between _____ (hereinafter "Author" or "Authors" [each Author must execute this Assignment]) and the Project Management Institute, Inc. as the publisher of periodicals and non-periodicals including, but not limited to the Project Management Journal (hereinafter "Publisher").

1. Author(s) hereby grants the exclusive right to publish the article or articles entitled (on submission):

including all abstracts, summaries, figures, charts, illustrations, artwork and graphics submitted with and/or printed in connection with the article or articles (hereinafter "Article(s)"), in any periodical published by Publisher. Publisher reserves the right to modify the title after conferring with the principal Author herein.
2. Author(s) hereby assigns all right, title and interest in the Article(s) to Publisher, in perpetuity. This Assignment constitutes a transfer to Publisher (and its successors and assigns) of the full ownership in and to the Article(s), including, but not limited to, all rights to reproduce, adapt, display, perform, distribute, license, and translate, in any form or medium whatsoever without limitation. Publisher may edit the Article(s) to conform to its editorial style, may publish the article either individually or as part of a collective work, and may register all copyrights in Publisher's own name, as author, in the United States of America and all foreign countries.
3. Publisher grants the Author(s) a non-exclusive license to use the Article(s), at no cost, provided that such use(s) of the Article(s) by Author(s) is in accordance with all permitted, legal uses and the Author(s) obtains prior written approval for such use from Publisher. Publisher shall not unreasonably withhold any such grant of permission to Author(s). Author(s), in connection with this license, shall properly acknowledge all PMI copyrights and/or other intellectual property rights and no endorsement by the Publisher shall be implied by any such use of the Article(s) by Author(s).
4. Author(s) represent(s) and warrant(s) that he/she has full power and authority to enter into this Assignment and does so voluntarily and understands that, from the date of this Assignment forward, all rights, copyrights, title and interest to the Article(s) will be owned, solely, by Publisher, in perpetuity, unless expressly set forth to the contrary in a writing signed and agreed to by both parties.
5. Author(s) represent(s) and warrant(s) that the information contained in the Article(s) is/are original with him/her/they, has not been published elsewhere, and to the best of Author(s) knowledge, does not infringe the statutory copyright or common law literary rights of others, or violate the rights of privacy of others, or libel other persons.
6. Author(s) agree(s) to indemnify and hold harmless the Publisher in any action arising out of facts which constitute a breach of the foregoing representation and warranties.
7. As consideration of this Assignment, Publisher agrees to acknowledge that the Author(s) participated in the preparation and creation of the Article(s) and will give full and complete attribution in all versions of the Article(s). Publisher reserves the right, however, not to publish the Article(s) at its discretion for any reason.
8. If the Author(s) is/are an employee(s) of the United States Government and the Article(s) was written in that capacity, this Assignment applies only to the extent applicable and allowable pursuant to United States law. If an employee of any organization during or in the scope of his/her employment with such organization wrote the Article(s), then, in addition to the Author(s) signing hereto, this Assignment must be signed by an authorized representative of any such organization employing the Author(s). **
9. The term "Article(s)", as used in this Assignment of Copyright, includes, but is not limited to, drafts, edits by Publisher, summaries, abstracts, the final document, publication, figures, illustrations, photographs, tabular and/or other supplementary materials which may or may not be identified herein; and any other materials and work products submitted for consideration for inclusion in the Article(s).
10. This Assignment and Agreement will commence and become effective on the date it is signed by the Author(s). A facsimile copy of this Assignment and Agreement or any facsimile signature will be treated as an original. This Assignment and Agreement will be binding upon the heirs, successors, executors, administrators, legal representatives, affiliates and assigns of the parties.
