

PMIEF Annual Report 2007

Introduction

PMIEF Unveils Expanded Philanthropic Program

The PMI Educational Foundation recently took the first step in a major expansion of its current programs to achieve the most ambitious social responsibility undertaking in the history of PMI and the profession. This effort is centered on leveraging project management to improve society in three areas:

- Expanding educational opportunities for future project management practitioners through academic programs, work-based learning, and visiting professorships.
- Preparing primary and secondary school students for success in life by using projects to educate them in critical applied skills and other skills, and by equipping teachers and administrators with project management capability.
- Helping relief and development organizations use their limited resources more efficiently and effectively by increasing their project management capacity.

It is an exciting time for the PMI Educational Foundation. The importance of the work being done and the potential for improving the lives of others through project management adds a critical dimension to the profession.

Accomplishments

A Better Prepared Project Management Workforce of the Future

In 2007, PMIEF awarded US$30,000 in academic scholarships and US$5,000 in research paper awards to college and university students studying project management and related fields.

University of Wisconsin-Platteville: Master's candidate – Concentration: Project Management

Paper Title: Motivation: How to increase project team performance

Abstract: Stimulating team member performance requires a project manager to harness many different interpersonal skills. The level of enthusiasm applied toward project efforts has a direct impact on the project results. Because motivation can inspire, encourage, and stimulate individuals to achieve common goals through teamwork, it is in the project manager's best interest to drive toward project success through the creation and maintenance of a motivating environment for all members of the team.

A Better Prepared Society for Future Success

In 2007, PMIEF provided grants to facilitate the Project Learning Partnership: Education to Develop 21st Century Skills in Students

The Project Learning Partnership (PLP) is focused on its mission to introduce project learning as a teaching methodology conducive to developing critical 21st century life skills in primary and secondary school children. Project learning involves students becoming educated by doing actual projects. They use core academic skills and creativity to solve authentic problems in real-world situations. The basis of project learning comes from the "constructivist" learning theory, which states that learning is deeper and more meaningful when students are involved in constructing their own knowledge.

The PLP is comprised of several organizations which include, PMI Educational Foundation, Global SchoolNet, Oracle Educational Foundation, Buck Institute for Education, Make It Happen!, and The Partnership for 21st Century Skills. In August 2007, the PLP convened at Oracle in Redwood City, California, USA. Promotional materials and a project management prize evaluation form for project learning competitions are in development. Resources for teachers, such as a project learning and project management support request form, a student and teacher mentorship program, and the P21 Skills Teacher Training are also under development.

A Better Prepared Response in Future Times of Need

In 2007, PMIEF provided grants to PM4NGOs Initiative for Development and Introduction of Pilot Courses for front-line personnel in disaster-related organizations.

The PM4NGOs Initiative was developed to increase the effectiveness, efficiency and impact of international NGOs by sharing/ developing/improving templates, tools and capacity building resources for project management. This initiative is under the leadership of Learning for International NGOs (LINGOs), which works to improve the performance, lower the cost and increase the effectiveness of Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs.) This LINGOs initiative includes participation by Catholic Relief Services, Oxfam, Care, World Vision International and other NGO's; private sector participants; volunteers, universities, and the PMI Educational Foundation.

The PMI LINGOs Essentials of NGO Project Management Pilot Course took place in the Philippines on 24–28 September 2007. The course, specifically designed for NGO field project managers, provided practical skills, concepts, and principles that help ensure project managers complete projects on time, on budget and as specified. The curriculum was also piloted in a global online format in October 2007.
