

GAC 2023 Annual Report

The 2023 GAC Annual Report is due 31 October 2023.

As stated in the GAC Handbook of Accreditation, programs submitting the Annual Report after 31 October 2023 will be billed a late fee.

Questions? Contact GAC at gac@pmi.org with the subject line "2023 GAC Annual Report"

IMPORTANT: All submitted materials must be in English.

As part of GAC's ongoing accreditation requirements, all programs must complete and submit an Annual Report each year. Complete your Profile to ensure GAC has current contact, billing, and other school information.

You may save a draft and return to the report form any time up through the due date. After you submit the report, print or save a copy for your records.

Institutional Information

Faculty

Higher education institution means a public or private college, community college, or university.

Faculty definitions

Full-time instructional faculty - Those members of the instruction/research staff who are employed full-time and whose primary assignment is instruction, including those with released time for research. It also includes full-time faculty for whom it is not possible to differentiate between teaching, research, and public service because each of these functions is an integral component of his/her regular assignment.

Part-time faculty - Those members of the instruction/research staff who are employed part-time and whose primary assignment is instruction, including those with released time for research. They are not paid on a course by course basis.

Adjunct faculty - Non-tenure track faculty serving in a temporary or auxiliary capacity to teach specific courses on a course-by-course basis. Includes both faculty who are hired to teach an academic degree-credit course and those hired to teach a remedial, developmental, or ESL course; whether the latter three categories earn college credit is immaterial. Excludes regular part-time faculty (who, unlike adjuncts are not paid on a course-by-course basis), graduate assistants, full-time professional staff of the institution who may teach individual courses (such as a dean or academic advisor), and appointees who teach non-credit courses exclusively.

Additional Information: If your institution is a public college or university and is part of a university system, only report totals for your local campus. If your institution is a private college or university and has branch campuses or additional locations connected to a parent campus, report totals for the entire college or university including all branch campuses. If you are unsure, please email GAC@PMI.org and add "2023 Annual Report" in the subject line.

Definitions:

Main Campus: The primary physical location where a program is offered by a university or college.

Satellite or Branch Campus: A campus of a college or university that is physically at a distance from the main campus. This satellite/branch campus may be located in a different city, state, or country, and is often smaller than the main campus of an institution. The branch campus offers a full degree or award.

Additional Location: A location that is physically at a distance from the main campus and offers less than a full degree or award.

Provide the total number of faculty at your institution (institute, college or university).
