Course Description:

Albert Einstein once said, “We cannot solve our problems with the same level of thinking we used when we created them.” Yet, how many people have ever taken a class on how to improve their THINKING? Success in every area of your life depends on the choices you make and the actions you take—and those choices depend on your capacity to make good judgments. In this seminar, we will first measure your VQ (Value-judgment Quotient) to identify your current capacities to make good and accurate judgments. Your VQ Profile will identify your natural strengths (thinking that serves you best) and your current weaknesses (thinking that is most likely undermining you). Using these results, you will learn how to immediately shift your attention from the thoughts that serve you least, to the ones that serve you best, by applying the principles and practices from the emerging new science of neuro-axiology. Attendees are required to complete a self-assessment at least 1 week prior to this seminar’s start. Self-assessment is not PDU eligible.
