Project Pro[™] FAQ

What is a Micro-credential?

Micro-credentials are a new product line offered by PMI. They certify achievements in specific skills, knowledge and competencies. They differ from high stakes certification (like PMP) as they are skills focused on particular content areas, and relatively new topics. They are shorter and can be industry-specific. Micro-credential badges help showcase your specialization on new topics and helps your achievement stand out among other project managers.

What is Agile Hybrid Project Pro[™]?

A new upskilling credential from PMI that assesses the knowledge of a project manager in Agile and Hybrid projects with a shorter focused assessment complemented by an Agile/Hybrid skill-based course. The micro-credential can be obtained at a great cost value, with no application process to certify. You also gain PDU's to maintain your current PMI certifications.
